

WELCOME PASTOR

REV. CRIST AND FAMILY GIVEN JOYOUS WELCOME TO SECOND YEAR'S WORK

One of the happiest occasions in the life of the First M. E. church congregation was the reception given last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the church to Rev. Clyde Monroe Crist and family in appreciation of their return to their work in Glendale for another year.

The banquet room, in which the reception was held, was beautifully decorated with goldenrod, cat-tails, wild sunflowers and plumosis. The large crowd which gathered for the occasion was greatly delighted with this scene of beauty.

The program opened with a selection beautifully rendered by the Sunday School orchestra, which played several times during the evening. Arthur G. Lindley, chairman of the evening, welcomed the pastor and his family, not only on behalf of the church but of the Brotherhood, of which he is president and lauded Dr. Crist's faithful work on behalf of the congregation and his efficient aid in the work of the Brotherhood.

Mrs. Chas. Starkey spoke in behalf of the Ladies' Aid, C. W. Ingledue as president of the Board of Trustees, A. W. Tower for the Sunday School, Mr. H. V. Brown for the orchestra, Mr. Miller for the choir, R. F. Kitterman for the new members from other states who had been so warmly welcomed by pastor and people and Rev. E. Hoskyn for the retired ministers, several of whom are members of the congregation. All the speakers referred in terms of loving appreciation to the whole-hearted support given by the pastor and his family to every one of the enterprises and bodies represented.

At the close of the speaking program Rev. Crist, his wife, and Kenneth were called to the front and each responded feelingly to the loving welcomes tendered by the speakers.

Miss Isabelle Isgrig rendered two beautiful whistling solos during the evening.

Refreshments of chocolate and wafers were served.

Wants The News

Mrs. N. W. Lauback of Topeka, Kansas, and her sister, Mrs. Wesley L. Miller, of Osage City, the same state, have come to Glendale to spend the winter and are living in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dixon, 318 Mira Loma avenue. Mrs. Lauback phoned the Evening News this morning that she wished to learn all she could about Glendale and its people while living in the city and thought the best way was to read the daily paper regularly, so she ordered the Evening News delivered to her address.

BIG PRESS HERE

COX DUPLEX ORDERED IN FEBRUARY BY EVENING NEWS IS IN GLENDALE

The Cox Duplex newspaper press ordered by the Evening News last February, was shipped from the factory at Battle Creek, Michigan, September 14th, and was received at the Southern Pacific freight yards, Glendale, yesterday afternoon, being a month and a day in transit. Immediately upon receipt of the car, Agent Thadeker notified the Evening News by phone and arrangements were made at once with a transfer company to have the press, which weighs 12½ tons moved to the Evening News building at 139 South Brand boulevard Monday. The company was wired at Battle Creek to notify one of their coast expert press erectors to report for duty as soon as possible.

The work of installing the new press will be commenced next week and the press will be ready for operating early next month.

TROTH ANNOUNCED

ENGAGEMENT OF G. EDWIN MURPHY AND MISS ALICE WILSON REVEALED AT PARTY

Miss Lois Murphy, of 421 North Brand boulevard, entertained a large number of the Philathea Class of the First Methodist Church at her home last evening. After games had been enjoyed, the doors of the dining room were opened and it was seen to be decorated in pink and white cupid. In the center of the table on a small platform were kewpie dolls, dressed to represent a bride and groom. Under the platform were bags, which were tied with ribbons, at the end of which were small bells. The guests drew numbers from a hat and were told to find the bell having a number corresponding, the one having the lucky number to get a prize. Upon opening the bag at the end of the ribbon a black cat was found which announced the engagement of Miss Alice Wilson to G. Edwin Murphy. Miss Alice Wilson, upon opening her bag, found a diamond ring. The guests were very much surprised and pleased to hear of the engagement.

The balance of the evening was spent in games. Refreshments consisting of pink ice-cream and cake were served.

No Curfew Hereafter

At the meeting of the City Trustees Thursday night Trustee Stephenson called attention to the fact that the southern section of the city was rather unpleasantly distinguished by the idea conveyed in the continued blowing of the siren on Fire House No. 2, Brand and Los Feliz Road, at 9 every evening, that South Glendale needed a "curfew warning" more than other sections of the city. On that account he moved that the sounding of the siren be dispensed with hereafter. His motion was unanimously concurred in, so "Curfew will not sound tonight," or any other night from now on.

TO BUILD OR NOT

TRADE PAPER SAYS MATERIAL AND LABOR WILL NOT DROP SOON

It is undoubtedly true that some people in Glendale who are very anxious to build homes are deterred by the high prices of material and labor and declare they will wait till both come down. But it will be noticed, on the other hand, that contractors, most of whom are building houses to sell, are going right ahead with their building, some of them taking out two or more permits at a time, evidently feeling sure that there is no likelihood of an early drop in prices. On this question the Southwestern Builder and Contractor, which very painstakingly gathers statistics and opinions on such questions, has the following to say about it:

"Those who are counting on a slump in building costs and who are inclined to wait for lower prices for materials, will have a long wait if the opinions expressed by manufacturers and builders throughout the country are well founded. The consensus of opinion is that no great reductions in prices are possible until wages are lower and as wages only followed the upward trend of prices they will be last to join the recession.

"While there has been a tendency to curb the upward trend of wages there has been no apparent disposition to force reductions and unless there is a portentous change in the economic drift, wages will be permitted to remain at a high level indefinitely. Wages are the barometer of the economic world and most people hold to the belief that continued prosperity will most certainly be assured by maintaining wages at a high level.

"As long as wages remain high only forced liquidation can work to depress prices of building materials to any great extent. The building industries have never been on a more sound financial basis than at the present time. A gradual return to conservatism preceded the war and during the war period enforced economic lessons left an impression which has not yet been effaced. The possibility of forced liquidation therefore, is very remote. Such a thing can only be imagined in event of a great national economic catastrophe which would practically suspend all building operations and no one would want to buy at any price."

OBREGON'S POLICIES

DE LA HUERTA'S DECLARATIONS ON INTERNATIONAL QUESTIONS REFLECT ATTITUDE OF OBREGON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—Declarations by President De la Huerta concerning Mexico's international policy were today interpreted as reflecting the attitude of the incoming Obregon administration.

Among the points made were: Mexico will pay all her just debts. She will co-operate with the United States in maintaining peace along the international border.

Mexico will accept conditions for United States recognition "which would not affect her dignity."

The League of Nations was declared an "institution beneficial to humanity."

Mexico has no intention of confiscating property. The statement was made by De la Huerta, after conferences with General Obregon and Roberto Pesquera, government financial representative at Washington.

BRITAIN TO FIGHT STRIKERS

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS EXPRESS CONFIDENCE IN THE OUTCOME OF THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The British government has accepted the challenge of the striking coal miners for a fight to the finish.

As a million men began leaving the mines today, in response to a strike call, Premier Lloyd George issued an official statement placing all the blame upon the strikers, and asking co-operation of the people to avert an industrial crisis.

The premier intimated the government was confident of the outcome and urged that there be no alarm. He gave assurance of an equitable distribution of fuel supplies.

By mid-day it was estimated nearly a million miners and auxiliary workers had left their work.

While no disorders were expected, many of the miners sullenly admitted the possibility of defeat, but said they were prepared to stay out for six weeks.

Iron and steel plants threatened with ultimate paralyzation were anticipating closing down temporarily.

PREDICT LOWERED PRICES

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS SAY DOWNWARD TREND MEANS RETURNING TO LOWER LEVEL PERMANENTLY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Food is not leading all other commodities in the downward sweep of prices. Prices paid farmers declined 15.6 per cent during September according to Department of Agriculture reports made public today.

Retail prices were following the trend downward, it was said. Predictions that the price drop was the beginning of a permanent lower level were made by many high government officials.

According to Governor Harding, of the Federal Reserve Bank, the dollar now has 55c purchasing power, as compared with 1914. Two months ago it had only 37c.

C. F. VAN DE WATER

GREAT RECEPTION IN HIS HONOR BY REPUBLICAN WOMEN OF GLENDALE

The Republican women of Glendale gave a reception yesterday afternoon at the White Inn to Chas. F. Van de Water, Republican nominee for Congress in the 9th Congressional District. The banquet room was a riot of color. Large American flags draped the walls, while groups of smaller flags were in evidence in all directions and huge bowls of myriad colored dahlias made an appropriate setting for the women who stood in the receiving line. Among those who thus stood with Mr. and Mrs. Van de Water were Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mrs. J. H. Braly, Mrs. Mabel F. Ocker, Mrs. Cameron Thom, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward and Mrs. C. L. Peckham.

Mrs. Gladys Gibbs Sherman sang beautifully two vocal selections, "The Land of the Sky Blue Water" and "To My First Love," accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. Gibbs.

Mrs. W. E. Evans, in the capacity of chairman, gave what she termed was her maiden political speech and told impressively her ideas of and belief in the Republican party and stressed the point of the duty of all women to use their right of franchise by going to the polls and casting their ballots. She then introduced Mr. Van de Water, who said it was a novel but pleasing experience to talk to the ladies and followed with a brief summary of the things he hoped to accomplish in the event of his election, and the policies he stands for. He stated it was both an honor and a responsibility and should he go to Washington his entire time would be given to his constituency as a representative of the whole people. He asked the support of the entire Republican ticket and also spoke for the enforcement of the 18th amendment, which could be best brought about by voting for the state enforcement act, known as the Harris Bill. Mr. Van de Water's remarks were heartily endorsed by those present. Mrs. Van de Water was introduced by Mrs. Evans and made a splendid impression with her knowledge of the needs of the day. Mrs. John Robert White graciously extended the invitation to all present to participate in a social visit and at several small tables punch and wafers were served by the hostesses, among whom were Mrs. Frank Chambers, Mrs. W. E. Grigg and Miss Alice Frank. Mrs. W. L. Andrews received commendation for her beautiful decorations. Among the men present were John Robert White, W. E. Evans, J. H. Braly, Ezra Parker, Thomas Watson, H. E. Bartlett and E. E. Harwood.

CAME BY CHANCE

GLENDALE GAINS GOOD CITIZEN BY ODD COURSE OF EVENTS

Pursuing an elusive debtor from city to city finally led J. A. May to his first sight of Glendale and he was so charmed by its beauties that he decided to come here to live and invest some of the earnings of a strenuous business life. While engaged in the drug business in Coronado, a check was given him in payment for a purchase and it came back marked "insufficient funds." A second attempt to put it through brought it back with the attached statement "account closed." Selling his business some time afterward he decided he would employ some of his leisure time in hunting this debtor. A visit to a big Los Angeles office building where he had been located was futile and he was directed to Eagle Rock, but on following up that clue was told his man had moved to Glendale. So he visited this beautiful city, where he found the family of the man he sought and his quest was ended. But the more he looked over the city the more he was charmed with it and he decided this was where he wanted to locate. So he purchased a fine big house on North Kenwood and an apartment house on the west side, both for investment purposes, and he is now making his home in Glendale and is on the scent of other bargains. He has been a school teacher in New Mexico, a justice of the peace in Redondo and a druggist in Coronado, and now he is a simple householder in Glendale, whereof he is glad.

AMERICAN LEGION

REGULAR BUSINESS MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT—DEBATE PROPOSED

At the regular business meeting of the American Legion Post, held last evening, James F. McBryde, one of the delegates from the Posts of the 9th Congressional district to the National convention at Cleveland, Ohio, gave his report of the doings of the convention and of the share in its proceedings taken by the two delegates from this district. This was very interesting to all present and approval was expressed in no uncertain terms.

Another striking feature of the meeting was the decision to hold, probably on Friday evening next, in some prominent meeting place, a debate on the League of Nations question. The Post is taking no stand on the matter as a Post, but its members have their individual opinions and express them with perfect freedom. A pronounced advocate of the League was appointed to choose a speaker for his side of the question and an equally pronounced opponent of the League is to choose his champion. It is to be an open meeting free to all.

Guests were present last night from Oklahoma, Pasadena and Richmond.

Recreation Committee

When it was decided by the City Trustees, after the continued agitation over the pool-room question, to submit to the voters of the city a bond issue of $100,000 with which to establish a recreation center, C. D. Lusby, Albert D. Pearce and W. R. Phelon were appointed by the chairman of the Board of Trustees as an advisory committee to solicit the co-operation of the various organizations of the city in the enterprise and to do what its members can to promote the project. Mr. Pearce's duties being such as to preclude his serving on this committee, chairman, pro tem., of the Board of Trustees, Mrs. Bartlett, at Thursday night's meeting appointed H. M. Butts in his place.

The election is to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 2d, in connection with the general election.

Mothers' Club

The Mothers' Club of the Acacia Avenue School met Friday afternoon. A social hour at which refreshments of coffee and cake were served preceded the business meeting, which was called to order by the president, Mrs. O. W. Esselmann.

Miss Anderson, who was accompanied by Mrs. Christy, rendered two vocal solos, which contributed much to the pleasure of the afternoon. Supt. R. D. White spoke on what the P-T. A. can do, and gave the ladies much valuable information on two of the amendments that will come up before voters at the November election, Amendments 16 and 12. An interesting feature of the program was the response to roll call by the members with favorite quotations.

GREEN & MCLELLAN PLEASED WITH GUARANTEE OF OAKLAND COMPANY

"The Oakland Sensible Six is not going to be reduced in price, at present," said Max Green, of Green & McClellan, San Fernando Valley Distributors for this car, "but we are more than pleased with the guarantee which the Oakland Motor Car Company gives us. They promise that in the event of unexpected reductions in material and labor to the point where the prices of cars may be consistently reduced between October 1, 1920, and May 1, 1921, every one who purchases an Oakland car within this period will be refunded the amount of the reduction."

"With the Oakland car giving full value for every dollar of its cost and with this guarantee to us and to Oakland purchasers there is nothing in the way of our making a record in sales of the Oakland Sensible Six," said Mr. Green.

A NATIONAL WASTE

More than 15,000,000 steam horse-power is used in the manufacturing industries of this country, supplemented by nearly a million horse-power developed by internal combustion engines. The statement is made in a recent government report that if the same amount of power were supplied by water power the saving in fuel would amount to nearly $20,000,000,000 annually. This would not include a saving of several hundred million dollars in wages now paid to workers whose services no longer would be required and who therefore would be released for other employment.

The report concludes broadly, however, that because of the high investment in development projects the gains which would result from a conservation of the national fuel supply and a full utilization of the national water resources would be public and future rather than private and present. As an argument against the largest possible development of water power resources of the country this is not impressive.

A little matter of $2,000,000,000 a year in coal savings is of interest to the public now and not only justifies but demands a most intelligent governmental policy. The fact that private interests can not see immediate profits in such enterprises is of decidedly secondary importance.

With periodic fuel famines threatening, the saving of coal becomes a public necessity. But there is another aspect to this question. The railroads themselves are consuming annually 150,000,000 tons of coal. Doubtless by the use of hydro-electric power, where feasible, this amount might be considerably lessened. The dearth of freight cars is to be considered also. How many cars now used to haul coal, how many trains engaged in this important service, could be made available for other uses, if that $2,000,000,000 saving could be made effective? Such a reformation unquestionably would correct many if not all our transportation evils.

PROFESSIONAL VETERINARY COURSE

Establishment of a professional course in veterinary medicines at the University of California was urged in a statement today by agricultural authorities as of great benefit to the livestock interests of the state who now lose several million dollars annually from preventable diseases among domestic animals.

The day of the privately-owned veterinary college is past, it is stated, with the result that California students desiring to obtain a professional veterinary course in a first-grade college have felt compelled to go to institutions on the Atlantic coast or middle western states.

"It would seem that the time has come when a liberal education, embracing the fundamental sciences, is as necessary for success in the practice of veterinary medicine and surgery as for success in any other agricultural specialty or in the professions of law, teaching or human medicine," it was stated.

With the tripling in value during the last two decades of the average individual value of the domestic animal, it was pointed out that the need for a professional course in veterinary medicine has become all the more apparent.

BLACK WALNUT

A FEW SUCH TREES, ONCE IN-NUMERABLE IN MIDDLE-WEST, FOUND HERE

Pleasant reminders of the Middle-West are some black walnut trees at the northeast and northwest corners of California avenue and Kenwood. They extend along the latter street for some distance both ways, also. The bark is not heavy and black, as in similar trees back East, but that is because Mother Nature knows that in the mild winters of this climate such heavy protection is not needed. But the walnuts look and taste just like those that used to be so plentiful in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and some other states before the great demand for walnut lumber caused the prices to go so high that the trees fast disappeared until now hardly one remains. The white walnut, or butternut tree, was quite prevalent back there, too, but it did not grow so large nor was the wood so desirable. The few walnut trees seen in Glendale make very graceful shade trees in addition to yielding nuts bountifully.

HALF OF COUNTRY'S POPULATION IN CITIES

Almost a tenth of the total population of the United States lives in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, assuming that the number of inhabitants of the country will be about 105,000,000 and if the metropolitan areas of these three cities were considered the proportion would be more than a tenth.

Compared with figures of the 1910 census this represents a gain for the three cities at the expense of the country, though a very slight one. In 1910 New York, Chicago and Philadelphia fell only a little more short of holding a tenth of the inhabitants of the United States. In 1910 the percentage was 9.1, in 1920 it is 9.8. But, though slight this is still a gain and shows that these cities are growing faster than the rest of the country, always assuming that the population of the United States will not pass 105,000,000.

But when we come to the consideration of cities of 100,000 or more we find much stronger evidence that the urban communities are running away from the rural.

The 1910 census showed 22.1 per cent of the total population living in such cities. The present census, we are told, will show more than 25 per cent of the people in the United States living in sixty-seven cities of 10,000 or more.

If the figures continue, right down the line, to show this increase in the proportion of city inhabitants to rural we need not be surprised to find more than half of all the people of the United States living in cities, taking, as the census bureau does, 25,000 inhabitants as the mark of a city. In 1910 the census showed 46.3 per cent of the population to be urban, so there is not far to go.

OCTOBER CROPS

CORN, OATS, HOPS YIELD GOOD
—OTHER GRAINS DISAP-POINTING

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14. (United Press.)—Optimistic comment on corn, oats and hops and somewhat discouraging remarks on other field crops feature the October crop report for California, compiled by government agricultural statisticians and the state department of agriculture.

September weather was favorable for the growth of corn. The condition of this crop is 90 per cent of normal, or seven points better than a year ago. The report forecasts a total production in California of 3,240,000 bushels.

The average yield per acre of oats has been better than was expected, asserts the report, and the state's production has been a little more than 5,000,000 bushels.

California hop growers have had a good year. The average yield per acre has been over 100 pounds more than last year. The state produces over fifty per cent of all that is grown in the United States.

The barley yield has been rather disappointing. The quality is only 84 per cent, compared with 95 last year.

The condition of Irish potatoes remains the same—83 per cent of normal, while the sweet potato crop fell a point from last month.

The condition of the rice crop at harvest time is down two points from what was reported a month ago. On this basis, and assuming that the entire acreage sown will be harvested, the forecast for the state's crop would be 9,387,900 bushels, providing weather conditions remain favorable for harvesting and threshing.

While the pasture condition always is low at this season, it is two points better than at this time last year and, although ranges are not at all good, still there is no complaint of live stock suffering for need of feed.

A further decline of two points in the condition of cotton was reported as of September 25th. Present conditions are due largely to late planting, adverse conditions up to the last of June, and inexperience of growers in newly-planted districts. The condition is only 78 per cent of normal, compared to 95 last year.

From the standpoint of production as well as market conditions, the present year, says the report, has not been a successful one for the bean grower. High temperatures in July and absence of fogs in the coast counties played havoc with all varieties of beans on unirrigated lands.

While little change has been noted in the condition of sugar beets, increased acreage and better condition promise a material increase in sugar production for the state this year.

Concerning fruit crops the report states as a whole they improved some in condition from early spring to midsummer, but at harvest time it became apparent that production was not going to be as great as had been expected from the improvement noted in growing conditions.

"The long and protracted drought with the heavy crop of fruit particularly in 1919 undoubtedly weakened the vitality of many trees, brought about such spotted conditions, and cause a slump in expected yields," says the report. "Weather conditions during September were on the whole satisfactory, although below normal temperatures the first half of the month held up the rapid drying of prunes and raisins. The latter part of the month higher temperatures hastened drying and the growers generally came through in pretty good shape. A few scattered showers followed by clearing weather caused no material damage."

Sometimes a man does not realize that he is on the down grade until he discovers that the brakes do not work.

GOOD MUSIC

HAVENER BAND CONCERTS FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF GLENDALE PEOPLE

There is going to be another concert at Verdugo Woodlands, Sunday afternoon by Havener and his famous band. These concerts are provided by the F. P. Newport Company and have been very well attended. W. L. Twining who is connected with the Newport Company said there were 1800 people out to the concert last Sunday afternoon, but many of them were from Los Angeles and since the concerts are especially for Glendale people they would like to see more of our people there.

"It is a question whether the crowds enjoy the beautiful music or the wonderful, natural beauty of the woodlands the more," said one who attends these concerts regularly. The concerts are growing in popularity and will be continued indefinitely if the interest warrants.

Bible Conference Closes

The closing meeting of the Bible Conference at the Presbyterian church was held last evening and the attendance was very satisfactory. The sermon was preached by Rev. Jas. Leishman, assistant pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian church, and his subject was "Changed from Glory to Glory." It was a pre-communion sermon in preparation for the sacred observance tomorrow morning.

Health Is Possible!

Chi-ro-prac-tic takes off the brakes. Nerve pressure prevents the flow of vital force. Chi-ro-prac-tic takes away the cause—Nature then produces the desired effect. Whenever vital organs work badly or you have so-called trouble with your heart, lungs, bronchial tubes, stomach, liver, kidneys, intestines, bladder, uterus, etc., Chi-ro-prac-tic has shown that the spine or back-bone is almost invariably at fault. The proof lies in the thousands of cases successfully handled by Chi-ro-prac-tic.

AFFECTIONS OF any of the following parts may be caused by nerves impinged at the spine by a subluxated vertebra:

- BRAIN
- EYES
- EARS
- NOSE
- THROAT
- ARMS
- HEART
- LUNGS
- LIVER
- STOMACH
- PANCREAS
- SPLEEN
- KIDNEYS
- SMALL BOWEL
- LARGE BOWEL
- GENITAL ORGANS
- THIGHS & LEGS

The quickest and safest way to overcome so-called internal bodily disturbances of any kind is by Chi-ro-prac-tic spinal adjustment to the particular joints of the backbone, which by their displaced conditions interfere with the passage of the Creator's vital force through the nerves to the particular organ concerned.

The house at 620 Vine street, near San Fernando Road, is to be improved with the addition of two rooms. The owner's name, as given in the permit, is Att Glatt.

Dr. Bryant and wife are compelled to move from 519 North Maryland on account of the place having been sold and are renting a furnished house at 1635 South San Fernando Road, which they will move into at once.

Chas. F. Tustin of 2517 Eighth avenue, Los Angeles, driving east on Broadway, struck the rear wheel of a motorcycle ridden by E. Farrand, 302 Sinclair avenue, north on Cedar, yesterday, damaging the motorcycle and injuring Farrand's hip and ankle.

In the first 10 days of October, 29 ships carrying lumber docked in Los Angeles harbor. They carried over 29,000,000 feet of fir and redwood. Looks like there should be no shortage of building material in Southern California if this record should be kept up during the month.

O. T. Walker is moving from 247 N. Kenwood to 422 E. Harvard, E. W. Ward from 441 W. Windsor Road to the house he recently purchased, just north of it at 442 W. Maple, W. W. Barnard from 1137 Campbell to 1711 Gardena, G. H. Scott from 512 Granada to 607 E. Chestnut.

Among those to take advantage of the opening of the duck hunting season are D. H. McGuire and two sons, Donald and Leo, of 241 North Cedar street, who accompanied by John Becker, of Omro, Wisconsin, motored to Elizabeth Lake yesterday afternoon. They expect to stay until they bag the limit.

Mrs. R. L. Milligan of 114 East Park avenue was most agreeably surprised yesterday by the arrival from Kansas City, Mo., of her niece and husband, Mrs. and Mr. Don Matthews, who have come to make their home in California. Mrs. Milligan will do her best to locate them in Glendale. She had not seen them for three years.

J. G. Larson and wife have sold their residence property at 104 North Central avenue to J. C. Barnett, who recently disposed of his Brandale apartments at 716 South Brand to Mrs. Laura Sibley. They will soon commence building on Burchett and possibly on Riverdale Drive, west of Columbus avenue, where they own two lots.

On Monday more than 300 tax bills for 1920-1921 taxes will be sent out from Los Angeles and every property owner in Glendale will get one of them, or should get one, as our city as well as county taxes are now collected by the county collector, saving about $2000 a year, it is claimed, to the city of Glendale. The first installment of taxes will be delinquent on Monday night, December 6, and penalties will then be added.

Only 12 traffic law offenders appeared before Judge Lowe yesterday and none were for serious breaches of the law. During the reorganization of the police force the past week, not so much attention was paid to this class of offenders, but now that all is working smoothly again, vigorous enforcement will be the rule. Several offenders who were tagged for violations have not yet reported and warrants will be issued for these.

Mrs. Anita Anderson, who came to Glendale seven weeks ago from Forest City, Iowa, with her son, Horace, has bought the Ferris place, formerly owned by James Knight, at 464 West Maple, and will move in today. Senator Phelan is a brilliant speaker and Republicans, Democrats and citizens of all political creeds will enjoy his address.

WHAT IS IT?

You may have money enough to buy diamonds, limousines, mansions, or anything else you may want and yet not be able to secure even a small quantity of this elusive thing. Unless your health and habits are about right and your family record and surroundings favorable, your money can't buy it nor can influential friends secure it for you.

It is the cushion which softens the sudden, crushing blow of calamity; it is the shield that averts disaster; it is the maintenance of mothers and of babes left fatherless; it is the comfort of old age. To those who can get it it pays profit in money, in relief from care, in quiet satisfaction and in a calming sense of security.

You want some of it. If you wait till the need is evident it will be too late.

Misses Jean and Hattie Hobbs are in Glendale over Sunday, visiting their many friends. The latter has been working for the Kern County Motor Company in Bakersfield, where she and Miss Jean and their mother have been living. Miss Hattie has been offered a much superior position with the Nash agency in Fresno, which she has accepted and the family will move to the latter city.

Of the many new business enterprises started in Glendale the past year hardly any of them have proved failures, but on the contrary practically all have grown and prospered. And there is still an insistent demand for more business rooms as other enterprises are hunting locations in this fastest growing city in the world. Ten large business rooms and 200 new residences could doubtless be rented next week if such were available.

Architect Arthur G. Lindley has been commissioned to prepare plans for a new church building at Artesia for the Methodist congregation. It will be a two-story and basement structure with Sunday School and social rooms and an auditorium to seat 350 people. The estimated cost is $25,000. Mr. Lindley is also now supervising the erection of a church and community building at Taft for which he prepared plans. It is of two stories and basement and will have social quarters, gymnasium and plunge.

Peter L. Ferry, the genial road paving contractor who lives at 614 East Acacia, while he has an up-to-date truck outfit for his extensive hauling work, retains a few faithful mules for certain kinds of work. That these animals resent the encroachment of the motor driven vehicle into their realm was demonstrated recently when one of them kicked to pieces an automobile that had been rashly driven too close to its heels by H. B. Christensen. The result was that the machine was almost a total wreck and the driver somewhat injured. It took $700 to repair the damage, but the mule vindicated his rights.

Mrs. C. G. Woods of Grand View avenue had as a guest this week Raymond Nevin of Pittsburg, who recently came out to Los Angeles to engage in business. He was with the 91st during the war and served through many fierce battles. He is a nephew of Ethelbert Nevin, composer of "The Rosary," "Narcissus," and other famous songs, and is considerable of a musician himself. Mrs. Woods is a long-time friend of the Nevins' family, whom she hopes to persuade to move out here.

The Glendale Health Culture Institute at 104 South Isabel, advertised in The Evening News, is not, as some suppose, a physical culture institution, but a place to show people, by simple treatments, how to get well and stay well. A "sweat cabinet," heated by electric rays diffused through red and blue globes, an apparatus for treatment by violet rays, an electrically heated massage couch, this is the simple paraphernalia used by Dr. Woillard. In addition to the electrical treatments he advises people what to do and what to eat to keep well, but most of all to "keep smiling." This is the motto that is seen on every wall.

GLENDALE HONORED

CAPT. HARRY BOEHME, 433 RIVERDALE DRIVE, MADE COMMANDER MACHINE GUN CO.

Glendale again came in for its share of recognition and distinction yesterday, when Captain Harry C. Boehme, of 433 Riverdale Drive, was commissioned commanding officer of the Machine Gun Company of the newly-formed Federalized Guard of the United States and California.

This commission, the most highly prized in the First California Regiment, had been eagerly sought by many officers of the late war but was tendered Captain Boehme without solicitation.

Intensive recruiting to bring this company up to its proper strength will begin at once and proceed under forced pressure. Since the Machine Gun company, known during the Great War as the "Suicide Squad," is to be one of the crack organizations of the Guard, great care is to be exercised in securing the pick of the young men of Southern California for its ranks.

Recruiting begins today for this company at Captain Boehme's headquarters, 332 Investment Building, corner of Eighth street and Broadway, Los Angeles, telephone 12244 and Captain Boehme is in hopes that some of the Glendale boys will make application for enlistment.

The new National Guard has taken on added dignity since being Federalized and will be operated under the Army Corps system, the troops being handled as nearly as possible as under war conditions.

Drills will be held one night a week at the Armory in Los Angeles with modern equipment including the Browning machine gun. There will be many excellent social features as well as a fully-equipped gymnasium, plunge and other attractions. The company will take the field for range practice once a month and there will be a two weeks' encampment with all expenses paid and salary during the summer. Later on the men will be paid regularly.

During the late war Captain Boehme was commanding officer of the Machine Gun company of the Sixty-third Infantry, later Divisional Machine Gun Instructor of the Eleventh Division, following which he commanded Company C of the Thirty-second Machine Gun Battalion of the Regular Army. Following the armistice he was Morale and Intelligence Officer for Camp Meade, Maryland, during the demobilization of many of the troops.

After leaving the service he returned to his home in Glendale. He states that enlistment in the Machine Gun company will not only carry distinction with it but that its duties will in no way interfere with the daily routine of business and social life and its pleasures will be many.

Mrs. John W. Garner and two small sons, John William and Worthington Joseph, of 600 North Louise, have just returned from Portland, Oregon, where they spent the summer with relatives and friends.

Greet Monday Morning With a Smile

Yes, it's actually being done in hundreds of Glendale homes. Instead of going through the old, unpleasant routine, the modern housewife simply bundles up the family linen and turns it over to our driver. That's the end of her wash-day worries.

We wash everything in soft, fleecy suds, gently sousing the clothes back and forth until there is not a vestige of soil left. We use the most modern machinery and equipment throughout our laundry which insures good work.

And when you consider the wages of the home laundress, the cost of supplies, the value of your own time and strength, our laundry service is reasonable.

Just phone us and one of our drivers will call for your bundle.

Death of Mrs. Huckins

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Powell, who lived for several years just east of Verdugo Road, now the end of Windsor Road, are distressed to learn of the death of their eldest daughter, Mrs. Dan Huckins. Funeral services were held at the Little Church of the Flowers, Rev. J. W. Utter of Corona officiating. Interment was in Forest Lawn. Mrs. Huckins leaves two small children, two sisters, her parents and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jenkins, of 375 West Wilson avenue. The Powells are now living in Pasadena, having moved there from Corona two or three years ago.

If Advertising Stopped

"What would be the reaction upon the cost of living if advertising ceased and its beneficent force were stopped?" This question, asked by the Fourth Estate, provides much food for rumination.

It is an interesting conjecture. Advertising largely takes the place of personal selling effort, which is very much more expensive.

A California editor cogitating on the possibility of a cessation of advertising says:

"It would mean that our railroad trains would be thronged with salesmen whose homeward bound mail would carry fewer orders, all of smaller volume than now.

"Distribution upon the present scale would be impossible. Manufacturing would fall off, with a consequent decrease in labor demand. Jobbers would find their business proportionately limited. Retailers would make fewer and slower turnovers. Prices of all commodities would take a rise that would make war prices and ante-war prices seem low by comparison."

PROPOSITION NO. 16

SUPT. WHITE EXPLAINS INITI-TIVE MEASURE WHICH VITAL-LY AFFECTS SCHOOLS

There will appear upon the November ballot under the above title, a proposed amendment to the State Constitution which, if enacted into law, will change fundamentally the system of financing the schools of the state.

This is a proposition which everyone interested in the welfare of the schools (and this means everyone interested in the welfare of the state) should study with the greatest care in order that he may cast his ballot aright in the coming election.

Surely in these modern times there are few who will doubt the statement that education is the chief function of government. And this is especially true in a government like ours wherein every adult citizen must weigh and pass upon matters of the greatest import to the country. For the successful conduct of such a government, public education is necessarily the first and chief essential.
It is therefore without hesitation that I assert it to be the duty of every citizen to give Proposition No. 16 the serious consideration which it deserves.

The proposed change in the law to be voted upon is fundamental and radical and is an attempt to place the burden of education where it belongs, that is, upon the state.

In order that education may be democratic and as nearly universal as possible, it is essential that educational opportunities should be the same for every child, a condition which is very far from the truth under the present system of financing our schools.

Under the law as it is now, the income of the school district is derived from three sources, the State, the County and the District. The State furnishes a minimum of $17.50 per child, or per unit of average daily attendance, the County $21 per child and the District whatever additional sum may be necessary. This system is undemocratic and unfair for the reason that it makes educational opportunities much better in a wealthy district than in a poor one and has resulted in great hardship in districts having a low assessed valuation. For the purpose of showing the actual working of the law I submit the following table:

The District or Special Tax
Maximum Legal Rate—30c on the One Hundred Dollars of Assessed Valuation.
Valuation	Amt. Raised Per Pupil	Amt. Raised Per Pupil
Watts	$ 2,147	$ 6.44
Glendale	4,789	15.50
Los Angeles	11,471	34.41

Bearing in mind that the amount per pupil furnished these districts by the State and County is exactly the same and the further fact that all three find it necessary to levy the full amount of 30c per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation, it becomes self-evident that Glendale has $9.06 per pupil more than Watts and that Los Angeles has $18.91 per pupil more than Glendale. As a corollary to this proposition it is plain that Los Angeles can have more and higher salaried teachers and better facilities of all kinds than can Glendale, and similarly that Glendale has a great advantage over Watts. The direct result of this is that the California school system is a district and not a State system. The child who is fortunate enough to be educated in a wealthy district will enjoy much greater advantages than the child not so situated. This condition is absolutely undemocratic and so far as it goes tends directly to defeat the purposes of general public education.
The child educated in the poorly financed district will of necessity lower the average standard of citizenship of the state.

Public education by means of taxation can only be justified upon the ground that it is in the interest of the state as a whole. On no other ground can you justify the taxing of the property of the childless man of wealth in order to educate the son or daughter of the man who pays a very small amount or nothing at all in taxes. Accepting this view then, which is the only tenable one, the conclusion is forced upon us that a district system of education, financially speaking, is undemocratic, unjust and contrary to the best interests of the state.

Proposition No. 16 is an effort to remedy this condition by an amendment to the constitution of the State which will materially increase the proportion of the burden of financing the schools which rests upon the State. It is an effort to equalize the amount of money available for educational purposes throughout the various districts of the State, and would probably result in restoring the State to the position which it occupied in this matter ten to fifteen years ago.
Since that time the State has borne an increasingly smaller and smaller percentage of the total expense of conducting the school system as shown by the following table:

Percentage of School Support Fur- nished by State, County and District
	1907	1918
State	52%	32%
County	36%	37%
District	12%	31%

Specifically, on its financial side, this proposed amendment provides that the State shall furnish to each common school district $30 per unit of average daily attendance and to each high school district a like amount, and that the County shall furnish to each common school district $30 and to each high school district $60 per unit of average daily attendance. To show how this would work as compared with the present

Law I submit the following table:
	Present Law	Proposi- tion No. 16	Increase
Common Schools
State	$19.33	$30.00	$10.67
County	24.70	30.00	5.30
High Schools
State	$15.00	$30.00	$15.00
County	60.00	60.00

In brief then, if Proposition No. 16 should become a law, the State and County together would furnish to each common school district $60 and to each high school district $90 per unit of average daily attendance.
This would increase the guaranteed minimum income of the schools but would not necessarily increase the total income, since it would still be the province of the local Board of Trustees to determine how much additional would have to be raised through a District tax. This latter amount should be decreased rather than increased in the average school district.

With the State and County furnishing the amounts proposed, it should not be necessary for the District through a special tax to supply more than one-fifth or one-sixth of its entire income. That this would tend to make the income and therefore the educational opportunities more nearly equal in all districts should be self-evident and it should be equally plain that such a condition is far more nearly in accord with our democratic principles and institutions.

I have purposely stressed the financial provisions of Proposition No.
16 because they seem to me by far the most important. However, there are other provisions, one of them being the extension of the scope and field of the State Normal Schools, and another providing for incorporation of the kindergarten into the public school system, making it an integral part thereof instead of a separate institution as at present.

So convinced am I of the value and justice of this proposed amendment that I have no doubt of its enactment into law if the voters of California will only give it the consideration which it deserves.

BEAT WINTER

INCREASED USE OF AUTOMOBILES DUE TO EXTENDED USE OF CLOSED CARS

Motorists have learned to beat winter at his own game and no longer fear his cold blasts or road-blocking storms. On the bitterest days they ride in comfort, disregarding zero temperature or raging blizzards. Only the most faint-hearted store their cars away till spring—the red blooded motorists use them day-in and day-out, straight through the oldest weather.

The increased winter use of automobiles, says the Travel and Transport Bureau of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, is largely due to the extended use of closed cars—couples, sedans, limousines, and improvised closed-in tops—and to the almost universal effort to remove snow and ice from the highways and city streets.

Nowadays the closed car is sweeping into favor, says the bureau. Occupants of the cars no longer become stiff with cold or shiver from the stinging blasts that rush in through flapping side curtains. With the closed car it's different—the motorist is as comfortable as though he were in a Pullman railroad coach.

The biggest aid to winter driving, however, lies in the snow removal activities of city, county, state, and national authorities. A few years ago, roads were practically forgotten from fall till spring, but now the authorities in all wide-awake localities feel they are neglecting a most important part of their work if they do not keep the roads open the year round.

The county and state authorities co-operate in keeping the main arteries of travel entirely free from snow. After each heavy storm, gangs of men are put to work and within a day or so the road is open again. Road reports are sent in from all parts of the state and when local authorities are unable to cope with a situation, assistance is sent. Snow fences are now used extensively as preventive.

Deep accumulations of snow and ice on city streets are now rarely seen in more progressive cities. Fleets of tractor-propelled snow plows and gangs of men are pressed into service before the snow stops piling and it is carted away before it has had a chance to pack and freeze into solid ruts.

Communities which have perfected systems for removing snow from highways find that the work pays them big dividends. Automobiles have become such an important part of the American work-a-day world that when impassable roads keep them from operating, the communities suffer a big loss in decreased efficiency.

The ranks of highway snow fighters were once confined almost exclusively to highway officials. Today those forces have been swelled by millions of motorists who insist that the ways and means be provided to allow them 365-day use of the highways and streets each year.

DUCK SHOOTING

AUTO CLUB ISSUES OFFICIAL BULLETIN FOR HUNTERS

Numerous requests from eastern and local motorists as to where the best lakes for duck-shooting are located in the southern part of the state has led the Auto Club of Southern California to issue an official bulletin in regard to the matter.

This information was issued yesterday for the benefit of automobile owners in this vicinity, and more detailed data in regard to road conditions leading to these lakes may be secured from the nearest Auto Club Touring Bureau.

Here are the prize lakes—let's go! Owens Lake: Reached by way of San Fernando boulevard via Saugus thence either through Bouquet or Mint Canyons to Mohave and north through the Owens River Valley.

Baldwin Lake—Big Bear Lake: All routes leading into the Big Bear district are open and in the usual good condition.

Little Bear Lake: Reached by way of San Bernardino and Waterman Canyon.

Lake Elsinore: Reached by way of Riverside and Perris, or via Corona.

Elizabeth Lake: Reached via San Fernando boulevard through Saugus and then through Bouquet Canyon.

Hemet Reservoir: Located in the vicinity of Idyllwild, reached via Riverside, Hemet and Perris.

Cuyamaca Lake: (San Diego County). Most direct route from north by way of Oceanside, Escondido and Julian.

Salton Sea: (Imperial County). Most direct route via San Diego, Mecca route is passable, however.

Buena Vista Lake: Reached via San Fernando boulevard and the Ridge Route, turning off state highway just south of Bakersfield.

Mr. Motorist, maybe these will refresh your memory for that winter shooting, says the Auto Club.

You are not doing a man any particular favor by letting him have his own way if he is wrong.

MILE A MINUTE

BICYCLIST ATTAINS THIS SPEED ON HIS TRUSTY STEED OF STEEL

In these days of high-powered racing autos making a speed of 100 miles an hour or more, few people are ready to believe that the lowly bicycle ever attained 60 miles an hour. But this is a fact, nevertheless, as was well attested at the time the feat was accomplished. The rider who established this record was named Anderson and it all happened about 25 years ago. He lived in St. Louis and he was made considerable fun of when he announced that he could pull off such a stunt. Even when he stated the conditions under which he would make the attempt he was not believed. But he did it, nevertheless, and this is how: A smooth wooden platform a quarter of a mile long was laid down between the rails of the Chicago & Alton track in a level stretch of country and extension roof and side wings were built to attach to the rear of a caboose, which was coupled to the tail end of a fast passenger train. This extension shielded Anderson entirely from the wind which would otherwise have poured down on him from above and in on either side when high speed was attained and thus there was nothing to retard him. The train started and quickly picked up speed until it was going at the rate of a mile a minute, and Anderson followed it, as close to the rear of the caboose as he could get, at correspondingly increasing speed, until, before the end of the board track was reached, train and bicycle had both attained a speed of a mile a minute.

Centralia Threatened

(United Press)

CENTRALIA, Wash., Oct. 16.—Yesterday was the day when, according to a threatening letter which was received here a month ago, many citizens of Centralia were to die.

The letter, which was signed by "The Revenge Committee" of Milwaukee, Wis., stated that "twenty-four of us radicals are going to Centralia October 15th direct from Milwaukee, and we are going to get revenge on the lumber trust. We will shoot down every man who has taken an active part in that raid in 1919."

The letter stated that four of the "raiders" on the I. W. W. hall in Centralia on Armistice Day of 1919 were killed but stated four wasn't enough; that all members of the American Legion and business men, who hadn't anything to do with the "raid" should have been killed.

So the "radicals" in Milwaukee said they would come to Centralia to kill a number of marked men. The letter asserts the members of the "committee" had given the matter of the proposed invasion much thought, and had secretly stored arms and ammunition in Butte.

Six men were named as some of the Legionnaires and business men who would be killed yesterday. The letter had not been taken seriously but the "marked men" proceeded about the city yesterday with caution, giving every suspicious-looking stranger more than a cursory once-over.

Jugoslav Consulates

The Jugoslav government has established in the United States two additional consulates at Chicago and San Francisco. The Chicago consular district includes Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana. All states west of this group belong to the San Francisco district, while those to the east remain under the jurisdiction of the New York Consulate. Mr. Banko Lazarovich, former secretary of the Jugoslav Legation in Washington, has been appointed Consul General at Chicago and Mr. Purich is the appointee for San Francisco. Mr. Purich is expected to return shortly from Siberia where he was sent by his government over a year ago to arrange for the repatriation of Jugoslav citizens who fought in the Russian army against the Central Powers.

FORD INVESTMENT CERTIFICATES

The Board of Directors of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, recently announced that the first semi-annual payment on Ford Investment Certificates would be eight per cent—three per cent guaranteed interest plus a five per cent bonus. This is at the rate of sixteen per cent a year.

In conjunction with the Ford Investment Plan, the Ford Motor Company pays employees a yearly cash bonus, which is based on the number of years they have been with the Company and the amount of wages they receive. This bonus may be applied toward the purchase of Investment Certificates, which are issued in $100, $500 and $1000 denominations. Certificates also may be purchased on the partial payment plan. They may be cashed for full value plus interest at any time, although the Company withholds the right to require thirty days' notice in writing of an employee's intent to demand payment.

The Ford Investment Plan provides an incentive for employees to save their money, and besides it offers them an opportunity to share more largely in the profits of the company. That the plan is a success is indicated by the fact that approximately thirty per cent of all Ford employees are certificate holders; and that to date applications to the amount of $6,200,000 have been received. Between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars a day is being deposited by Ford workers toward certificates.

One interesting feature of the certificates is: "In case of the death of an employee holding a Certificate, it becomes payable, together with accrued return, to his personal representative; at the discretion of the Board of Directors, however, the Certificate may be permitted to stand and to continue to draw returns for the benefit of the deceased employee's dependents."

Just as soon as prices are down to a reasonable level it might be a good plan to put weights on them.

A prodigy of any sort should get all he can out of it, for he may not amount to much when he grows up.

A person can find solace for a lot of troubles if he has a job that takes a lot of attention.

ABLE JUDGES

FARIES SAYS MOTORISTS SHOULD BE INTERESTED IN JUDICIARY OF STATE

Motorists are particularly interested in securing the highest possible class of judges for the courts of this state. Automobile owners and operators are all too liable to be haled into court over a possibly unavoidable accident which has resulted in real or fancied damages.

"Most of these cases," according to David R. Faries, General Counsel of the Automobile Club of Southern California, "are finally decided by the justices of the Supreme Court or one of the Appellate Courts, or if decided in the lower courts are decided in accordance with the principles of law determined by these courts."

"There are only twenty-four Supreme and Appellate Court Judges in California. These positions should be kept filled with lawyers of high calibre. The honor of the position is doubtless appreciated by the judges, but they cannot any longer be expected to support themselves and their families on the honor, or the present compensation."

More than thirteen years have elapsed since the salaries of these justices were raised. In the meantime, Mr. Faries points out, the state has increased tremendously in population, industry and commerce, bringing a corresponding increase in the volume and importance of the work of our courts as a last resort.

Amendment No. 3 which is designed to raise the salaries of the Supreme and Appellate Justices to comply with modern conditions should be adopted at the election on November second. Only by its adoption, says Mr. Faries, can further resignations from our ablest judges be prevented and good men be found to fill future vacancies.

Need Republicans

Louis M. Cole, food administrator for Los Angeles county during the war, former president of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, and now directing the Republican campaign in Southern California as vice-chairman of the Republican state central committee, issued a statement yesterday warning voters everywhere of the urgent necessity for the election of a Republican United States senator and Republican congressmen on November second.

"Everywhere I go I am assured that a splendid majority will be rolled up for Harding and Coolidge," said Mr. Cole. But all Republicans, and all voters who are satisfied that a change in administration should be made, are directed to the fact that the election of the executive heads of the party is but half of the work that the voter must do in order to bring about an era of Republican reconstruction and sanity during the next four years.

"It is highly essential that the United States senate and the lower house of congress be Republican. No tariff legislation, no business reconstruction and no new and wise foreign policy can be obtained by Harding as president if he is faced by a hostile Democratic congress. This condition simply must not be.

"I have heard a few business men say that they might vote for the Democratic candidate for the United States senate on account of personal friendship, or for some equally unwise reason," said Mr. Cole. "While there are not many that take this view, I want to warn against it with all the power that I can summon. With the sweeping out of the Democratic executive branch in November must also go the Democratic strength in the legislative branches or else you will create a deadlock, with at least two years of strife in congress.

"My message to every voter, and to every worker in the Republican ranks is to prepare for the voting of a straight ticket. Make up your minds to stamp only those names that are followed by the word Republican on the ballot. To the young man and woman, just coming to the voting age—I say, if you do not thoroughly understand the economic problems that confront us—vote only for the candidates who have the designation Republican following their names.

Don't Throw the Game

The nation was shocked a few days ago by revelations of wholesale corruption in what had been one of its most highly respected baseball teams. That some of the most famous players on the diamond have accepted money to "throw the game" was a startling revelation not alone of man's inherent weakness, but of the tremendous temptations that he is called upon to withstand.

They are all about us, these temptations—petty and powerful, subtle and open, slinking and arrogant. Not only baseball players are called upon to face them. Every day, everywhere, they are whispering into men's minds the poisoned lure to "throw the game."

Discontent, Misunderstanding, Disappointment, Jealousy, Selfishness, Greed—these are the temptations that pierce their cancer growth into the souls of men in high places and low. These are the temptations that urge a man, in a moment of anger, of chagrin, or despair, or covetousness, to "throw the game."

A sales clerk who, piqued by a rep- rimand, rebuffs a customer and turns a friend of the store into an enemy, "throws the game."

The mill hand who, resentful of a grievance, real or fancied, stands by while the output of hours of toil is destroyed, "throws the game."

The man anywhere, anytime, who knocks the efforts of his colleagues, the purpose of his employer, the integrity of their establishment, like Eddie Cicotte, "throws the game."

The man who speaks of his family with criticism and disparagement, instead of with respect and pride, "throws the game."

The man who fails always to do his best, to keep faith with all that is true and noble, to play his part with heart and soul, that man "throws the game."

The man who throws the game

cheats not only his employer. He cheats his associates, he cheats the public, and above all he cheats himself. He sells his immortal soul for a mundane, fleeting price.

How Property Moves

As an example of the great demand for Glendale realty and the rapidity with which it is moving these days, one concrete example may be cited. C. L. Canfield and wife (Mrs. Canfield was formerly Mrs. Edna Irene Sawyer), have sold their three lots on Myrtle, one to T. A. Wright, one to Mrs. V. Prosser and the other to Geo. Prikett. The latter has already commenced building on his, and Mrs. Prosser will build soon. Then the Canfields sold the property they lived in, at 522 Oak street, to Prof. Webb of the High School and will move into 519, across the street, which was formerly owned by Mrs. Deacon, now deceased, mother of Mrs. Canfield. The small house in the rear of this they intend to move to the lot just west of 523, which they bought of Mrs. Ella Bradley.

Business Brisk

The great volume of business done by Glendale merchants is indicated by the many immense truck loads of goods coming into the city daily, both from wholesale houses in Los Angeles and from the great vegetable gardens which hem in the city to the west, south and east. All the wholesale grocery houses, meat packers, commission houses, cracker companies, milling companies and others make daily or occasional deliveries in Glendale and truck companies bring out great loads daily also. It takes a great deal of provender for man and beast to supply a city of 20,000 people, which Glendale can safely claim to be, according to its registration figures.

Not every person can make a record for home runs in the game of life, but that is no reason why he should refuse to play.

You can't get ahead of a woman in anything else, so why should mere man expect to get the best of it in politics.

There would be a lot more prosperity if some folks would quit scolding the rich and try to find out how they got that way.

An Englishwoman declares American women are old-fashioned and charming. We do not know just how the American women will regard that characterization.

When the political pot boils over somebody runs the risk of being scalded.

HUMAN CONSERVATION

Statistics presented at the recent meeting of the National Safety Council impress strikingly the need for greater effort in the promotion of human conservation. We are appalled when a catastrophe occurs which sweeps human beings away in large numbers, yet we are disposed to disregard the effort in the aggregate when lives are snuffed out one at a time from causes that could have been avoided. People are maimed and lives are lost by means beyond power of human ken to foresee or guard against, but a large percentage of the accidents that result in injury or death could be avoided by observing the rule of "safety always."

Human life is an asset and the destruction of it throws liability on society. Every useful life sacrificed diminishes productive power. Neither does life insurance nor industrial compensation recompense for death or maiming. Such may assist the survivors, or the victim, to stand the blow better, but society suffers the loss nevertheless. In the same way illness bears not only on the patient, but on the community also, for though the loss may fall heavier on the sick person society shares in it because deprived of the product of a healthy person's effort. That fact makes highly important the statement that 3,000,000 persons are a drain and a drag on the country's resources because of disability from illness. That number of persons doing a full part in useful occupations would add immensely to the productivity of the nation whereas they now constitute a liability for which there is no offset.

Human conservation includes the prevention of sickness as well as accidents. The world no longer regards sickness and accidents as dispensations of Providence. They proceed from violated law and in many cases the victim is well aware that he is violating law. Ill health may proceed from the sins of the fathers for which the victim is not personally responsible. It may come from unwitting violation of the laws of health, but in any event it is the penalty imposed for violation of law. Conservation would avoid many conditions that lead to accidents and ill health. Even were all done that is humanely possible not all illness could be avoided nor all accidents prevented. But it would be well worth while to go as far as possible in eradicating those conditions that make of human beings liabilities instead of assets.

MAKE HUNTERS PAY FEDERAL LICENSE FEE.

The Migratory Bird Act has been held constitutional by the Supreme Court and the federal law limiting the number of birds that can be shot in a day or a week, establishing closed seasons, prohibiting spring shooting, etc., is now in full effect. But it will remain a dead letter unless its enforcement is backed by an ample appropriation. The slaughter of ducks and geese and shore birds will continue, their number will continue to decrease every year unless money is forthcoming to patrol the breeding grounds in the North, to establish more bird refuges in the South and to provide a corps of federal game wardens in every state that hasn't sense enough to protect its resources. A million a year will be barely enough to start this work.

By all means Congress should provide for a federal hunting license without delay. No real sportsman will object to the slight

LOST

LOST—Case of tools from Dodge car, in Glendale. Return to 462 West California Avenue. Phone Glendale 453-J.

Panelings are very useful in giving a broken skirt silhouette. Thus, a leading Fifth Avenue house shows a street gown fashioned of rich bottle green duvetyne. The basque front is puckered about a white satin vestee and the back of the gown is a panel belted in at the waist line. The lopsidedness is achieved by the panel being two more inches in length than the garment proper.

The same house shows another model of chow brown velvet with side panels of nigger brown satin. One panel is a full three inches longer than the other, although they are both fastened symmetrically to the shoulder seams. Other gowns show the use of the little aprons so popular last season.

This season's aprons, however, are anything but on the square. Thus, one side may be round and the opposite side square, or one side may be scalloped and the other side rounding.

Bodices are being cut on diagonal lines with contrasting trimming on each side. Thus, a leading house shows an evening gown of black net with a diagonally-cut bodice which is finished on the left side with jet beads and on the right with a fold of brocade silver ribbon. One shoulder strap is of jet beads and the other of black tulle. Contrasting shoulder straps are very popular and are shown in such combinations as beading and embroidery, or tulle and ribbon.

Another season's freak is the arrangement of fur collars and cuffs from underneath the fabric collar and sleeve and sewed on the inside so irregularly that one side protrudes higher than the other.

When irregular lines do not seem to give a sufficiently "choppy" effect to the garment, courriers combine colors in such a way that the line seems to be broken. A modish shop is showing an afternoon gown of plaited blue charmeuse skirt and a long-waisted basque of bronze broadcloth. A sash of dull Roman tints is threaded through loops at the waist line in such a way that there are two levels to the girdle and a consequent irregular effect.

There is a tendency to permit the gorgeous linings of suit or coat to protrude at spasmodic intervals. Altogether, clothes are full of ups and downs, while every little hem-line has a hanging all its own.

AND NOW!!!

NAZIMOVA

creates her greatest characterization, that of Sally, in A Dramatic and Romantic Masterpiece of the Screen.

Sally was dancing in the street to a hand-organ when someone shouted to her: "Wot a lark, Sal! Yer father's bashed yer mother's 'ead in!"

After this tragedy that orphaned her---what? Was the girl's inborn goodness proof against the world's glamorous tempting?

Depends on Farmers

Representatives of various agricultural organizations will meet in Washington this week to confer on plans for protecting the raisers of wheat, cotton, wool and livestock against what are said to be attempts on the part of speculators and other agencies to force down the prices of these products.

The claim is made that any marked lowering of prices on the products of the farm, without a reduction in the costs of articles that enter into the operation of the farm will result in great injury to producers and will constitute a reason for a great falling off in grain and other agricultural yields.

Practically everything which the farmer must buy to raise and market his crops has greatly advanced in price, and workers can only be obtained by the payment of wages that form a large item in the total cost when the farm products are ready for marketing. It need not be surprising if many farmers decline to take chances on crops into which they must put so much of money and labor.

It must be said to the credit of representatives of agricultural interests that they do not ask anything that is not granted to other producers. All they want is the opportunity of making a reasonable profit in the investment they must make in land and equipment and for the raising of crops. Farmers may easily reduce their production 25 per cent, but to do so would advance prices probably above what they are at present. If farmers must submit to marked reductions in the prices of their products, they have a right to demand that they be given lower prices on the things which they must buy to produce their crops. It is a case of giving the square deal.

CHARGE AGAINST MARINES

GENERAL BARNETT'S CLAIM THAT MARINES KILLED HAITIANS INDISCRIMINATELY TO BE INVESTIGATED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Charges brought by General Barnett of "indiscriminate killing" of Haitians by American Marines will be thoroughly probed by Congress, according to beliefs in official circles today. An investigation by a board of officers has been ordered by Secretary Daniels.

According to Barnett's reports, Marines stationed in Haiti committed numerous illegal killings of natives.

Fashion's Freak

By "MARJORIE"

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Milady of fashion is not on the level. At least, her clothes are not, for as the season advances the tendency to lop-sidedness is more and more marked. Nor is this "up-again-down-again" movement confined to the skirt hems that would be described by the rural dressmaker as "hanging awful." The craze for irregular, spasmodic lines is shown in draperies, panelings, the way a button snap fastens, irregular length in sleeves or shoulder straps, and graduated bandings and applied trimmings.

The "awful hanging" hems are seen in gowns, suits and even coats. In dresses the effect is often shown by a bead or yarn fringe that is set higher upon the body of the gown on one side than the other, and thus makes the skirt length an inch or so longer on one side than on another.

Fringed hem finishings, by the way, are a popular novelty of the season. Monkey fur is by far the favored fringe material, as bead fringes are too apt to be caught by the shoe and broken. Fringe is not often seen upon coats, but an irregular hem line is given either by the natural cut of the garment or by having the buttons set an inch or so above the corresponding button-holes.

Panelings are very useful in giving a broken skirt silhouette. Thus, a leading Fifth Avenue house shows a street gown fashioned of rich bottle green duvetyne. The basque front is puckered about a white satin vestee and the back of the gown is a panel belted in at the waist line. The lopsidedness is achieved by the panel being two more inches in length than the garment proper.

The same house shows another model of chow brown velvet with side panels of nigger brown satin. One panel is a full three inches longer than the other, although they are both fastened symmetrically to the shoulder seams. Other gowns show the use of the little aprons so popular last season.
